

The Pain Relief Foundation

19th Annual Lecture 2018

Clinical Sciences Centre Aintree University Hospital

Embodied Pain: psychological science and chronic pain

Professor Chris Eccleston

To honour the life and work of
Professor Stephen Morley

Thursday 1st November 2018 at 6.00pm
Refreshments served at 5:30pm

This is the nineteenth of an annual series of lectures to honour those who have made an outstanding contribution to the treatment and study of chronic pain. Stephen Morley was a highly respected researcher committed to advancing the rigour and quality of research in psychological treatments for pain. He supervised many trainees' research, inspiring many to a career in research. He published extensively. He edited the British Journal of Clinical Psychology. He was awarded an honorary membership of the International Association for the Study of Pain - a rare honour. He died in 2017 aged 67.

A short appreciation of his life and work will be given by Tamar Pincus, Professor of Health Psychology at Royal Holloway, University of London.

Chris Eccleston is Professor of Medical Psychology at the University of Bath, UK, where he also directs the Centre for Pain Research. He established the highly respected Bath Pain Management Unit in 1995, developing intensive treatment programmes for both adults and adolescents with chronic pain. He is chair of the science committee for the European Pain Federation. This year he received the prestigious IASP Ronald Melzack Award.

The lecture will take place in the Clinical Sciences Centre, Aintree University Hospital, Liverpool. Please join us for light refreshments served before the lecture.

The lecture will be supported by the pharmaceutical industry.

The Lecture is free to all, but ADMISSION IS BY TICKET ONLY.
